

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

THE SHAHZADA.

Shahzada, accompanied by his entire suite, left London for the military tournament in London on Saturday afternoon...

THE LICHFIELD MURDERS.

Withholding her wound and the terrible shock, Mrs. B. Bakewell has sufficiently recovered to give a complete account of the tragedy...

DEATH FROM THE INTENSE HEAT.

On Thursday Mr. Wynne E. Baxter held an inquest on the body of William Dunnell, a blacksmith lately residing in Tetley Street...

RETRIAL MURDER AT GLASGOW.

Glasgow correspondent telegraphing yesterday states that the police have discovered that a murder has been committed at 17, Millar Place...

THE PREMIERS CRUISE.

Rosebery, accompanied by Sir E. Hamilton, sailed for Southampton early on Saturday afternoon...

OPENING OF NEW RAILWAYS.

Banarvia branch of the West Highland Railway for traffic on Saturday. The first train left Banarvia for Fort William at 5.40 a.m.

THE WISBECH MURDER.

HEARING AT CAMBS. ASSIZES.

These Assizes were opened at the Shirehall, Chester-le-Street, on Friday, before Lord Chief Justice Lord Russell.

The Lord Chief Justice, in charging the Grand Jury, said he was glad to be able to repeat there what he had great satisfaction in saying at Hurtingdon...

BULLDOGS IN THE DOCK.

The case of Bullamore was heard last on the list. When the prisoner stepped into the box it was at once apparent that imprisonment had had considerable effect upon him.

The Judge ordered him to be detained during her Majesty's pleasure. Bullamore, as he left the dock, said:—I'm compositing.

ODDFELLOWS AT SWANSEA.

The business proceedings of the Annual Moveable Committee of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows will be commenced in the Drill Hall, Swansea, this morning...

PROGRAMME OF BUSINESS.

The number of adult benefit members on the 1st of January was 739,449, and the Manchester Unity has now the largest number of benefit members of any friendly society.

WOUNDING A WIFE AT NORWICH.

MURDEROUS ATTACK AT A PUBLIC-HOUSE.

At the Norwich Police Court on Saturday, before Sir Harry Bullard (Chairman), G. Barnard, G. M. Chamberlain, and G. White, Esqs., Frank Miles of 100, Calvert Street, was charged with unlawfully wounding his wife, Mildred Miles, with intent to murder her, that morning.

Mr. Reeve, in opening the case, said the facts were very simple, but he should only be able to call a certain amount of evidence that morning, as the woman, who was rather seriously injured, would not be able to appear for a few days.

Mr. Miles said:—I was in my bedroom, about nine o'clock this morning, and while there I heard Mrs. Miles scream "Murder! Mother!" I sat down to go to bed, but I saw the prisoner standing near the door.

On Friday night he did not ask me for any explanation as to why it was his wife came home with arm and arm. Prisoner said to me, "Don't allow my wife to go with me."

Police-sergeant Robert Hill said:—At a quarter-past nine this morning the prisoner came to the Police-station, where I was in charge, and said, "I wish to give myself up."

Prisoner was accordingly remanded till next Wednesday. Mr. Chamberlain:—Was he under the influence of drink at all?—I think not, sir.

DRINK AND NEGLECT AT NORWICH.

At Norwich Guildhall on Saturday, before G. White (chairman) and G. Barnard, Esq., Walter George Nicholson and Mary Nicholson of Lime Kiln Cottages, Ipswich Road, were summoned...

DEATH OF VICE-CHANCELLOR BACON.

The night Hon. Sir James Bacon died at his residence, Kensington Gardens Terrace, London, on Saturday morning at six o'clock.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE ON BOARD THE JENNY LIND STEAMBOAT.

Yesterday afternoon a great deal of excitement was occasioned in Norwich by a report that the Jenny Lind steamboset, the popular craft that plies on the river between the city and Bramerton, was on fire. Hundreds of persons hastened to the river side and Foundry Bridge, and found that the news was altogether too true.

Police-sergeant Hill, and said, "That is what I did it with three minutes ago." Maria Wilby, landlady of the Gardeners' Arms, Thebell, said:—The wife of the prisoner, Mildred Miles, is my daughter, and lives with me apart from her husband.

NORWICH POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

SHIREHALL—SATURDAY.

Francis Reasonsof Wood Dalling, fish-hawk, was summoned for aiding and abetting some persons unknown in a game trespass at Horsford on Saturday.

IN POSSESSION OF GAME. Francis Reasonsof Wood Dalling, fish-hawk, was summoned for aiding and abetting some persons unknown in a game trespass at Horsford on Saturday.

THE AFTERMATH AT SUICIDE. Edward Grimwood of Swardeston, labourer, was charged with attempting suicide on April 2, 1896.